Strikers in Possession at Homestead.

Unwilling to Do Anything to Restore Order-What the Em ployers Say.

y Telegraph to The Times.

HOMESTEAD (Pa.,) July 7.—[By the Associated Press.] After the carnage of yesterday and last night the town of Homestead was almost as quiet as a sleepy country village, and the sad duty of the decent interment of three of the ave striking workmen-workmen who were instantly killed in the battle that raged so fiercely along the beautiful banks of the Monongahela was the chief evidence of the storm of yesterday. The strikers were masters of the situation today, and the best evidence that they could possibly produce of their intention to protect property and not turn the town into a hell where Anarchy and destruction rule, lies at the scene of yesterday's battle, where the immen plant shows no signs of the fearful work of the preceding twenty-four nours. The ruin, incident to yester-

The striking men assert that except in defense of what they claim to be their rights, that is to pre-vent the introduction of Pinkerton mer went the introduction of Pingerton men and prevent the advent of non-union workmen, who will dispossess them of their homes and means of livelihood, they are orderly and careful observers of the peace.

THE DARKEST STORY of the whole affair is that of the running of the gauntlet after the surrender fenseless Pinkeytons. Careful inquiry among eye witnesses shows that the re-ports of it were not exaggerated and all that the men can say cannot ex-tenuate it. Women were the most viruent and savage after the surrender,

A number of others are reported dead, but the coroner has no official notification of their deaths.

A great deal of relief was experienced by the workmen at the news that Gov. Pattison had refused to order militia here, and the intelligence of the failure of the ridiculous efforts of the sheriff to obtain a strong posse left the workmen in complete possession of the place. Gov. Pattison's action has made him very popular with the men, and this morning contributions were taken up for the appointment of a committee to visit the Governor and lay the case of the men before him.

The money was soon raised and the committee left the city this afternoon. It is not possible to state just what would happen should the Governor order troops here. They probably would be unmoissted, save for the possibility of some act causing trouble, but should they attempt to act as an escort and as a means whereby non-union men may be introduced into the mills trouble will be inevitable.

Rather late in the morning and before the village was stirring the quiet was impressive, and everything seemed asleep were it not for the fact that here asieep were it not for the fact that here and there were groups of men. At the Amalgamated Association head-At the Amalgamated Association head-quarters, a dozen or more men gathered. Notices were posted of the funerals of the members. Nothing much was to be learned, the leaders being absent. Over at the milds everything was orderly. A trip along the river showed signs of the conflict in bullet holes, splinters and gracks. The two barges are invisible they floated down stream after burning and sank. In the afternoon the ar-rangements were begun for the funerals. AMARGHIST EMISSARIUS EXPELLED.

Nothing occurred to disturb the peace and quiet until 9 o'clock when the men were aroused to indignation by reports were aroused to indignation by reports of efforts to circulate Anarchist papers. The men denounced the appearance of the circular as got up for the purpose of injuring their cause and creating a belief that they are Anarchists. workmen agreed not to kill them it was understood that the guards would be placed in jail until informations for murder could be sworn out against them. The report of their release excited much angry discussion at first, but it quieted down when the men remembered that if they appeared against the Pinkertons as witnesses they themselves would be liable to prosecution for riot. The feeling then became one of relief that no legal complications would arise out of yesterday's bloodshed.

He continued: "We did not propose to reduce the earnings of employés below those of other Amalgamated men in other mills. CHICAGO, July 7.—[By the Associated Press.] A committee of the Amalgamated Iron and Steel Association from Pittsburgh is here to confer with the workmen in the building trades, with a view of boycotting all iron and steel from Carnegie's works at Homestead if non-union men are put to work. They were well received, and the course they ask will probably be complied with. Similar committees were sent to other large cities, and a general building tie-up is not improbable.

As it was apparent that a large force could not be got together, the Sheriff decided to postpone his trip to Homestead until tomorrow. In the meantime he will issue additional summons.

Much reluctance was shown by citi zens about going to Homestead, where they know a fight will await them. In this city and Allegheny there are thou-sands of members of the Amalgamated Association, who of course would not march against their fellow-workmen. The figures at the sheriff's office show sixteen killed and sixty-two wounded, six of whom will die, making the total larger than that in the riots of 1877. The names of the sixteen killed are not given, however, and it is believed the figures are inaccurate. What is believed to be a complete list of the dead makes the total dead ten, of which six were workmen and four Pinkertons.

Eleven workmen were severely hurt, six of whom may die, and twenty-five others are slightly injured. Those in danger of dying are: George Retter, Richard Durham, William Foy, Henry Rusiski, Andy Cudia, Charles Daeska. Nearly every one of the Pinkertons is more or less hurt. Seventeen of them more or less hurt. Seventeen of them are suffering from gun-shot wounds. The remainder bear evidence in cuts, bruises and swollen heads and faces, of the rough treatment they received at the hands of the workmen when they surrendered and came out of their boats. The application of fists, clubs, stones, brickbats as they ran the gauntlet of the crowd, left them in a horribly battered up condition, but it is not believed any of them will die from the effects of the beating they received. the Carnegle Company, was interviewed this evening as to the differences between the company and the men. New York, July 7.—[By the Associated Press.] A notable gathering of Republican leaders met here today for the appointment of the Republican discussion of ways and means of carrying on the next fall campaign. Among those present were Senator John Sher-man, Chairman W. J. Campbell, Secretary J. master-General Wanamaker, Whitelaw Reid, J. S. Clarkson, Chauncey M. Depew and Thomas C. Platt.

Chairman Campbell of the Nationat.
Republican Committee gave out the names of the Executive Committee as follows: J. S. Clarkson of Iowa, Garret A. Hobart of New Jersey, Samuel Festenden of Connecticut, Henry C. Paine of Wisconsin, Richard C. Kerens of Missouri, William A. Sutherland, Joseph H. Manley of Maine and John R. Tanner of Illinois. Mr. de Young will represent the Pacific Coast; Mr. Carter the newly formed States, Payne and Clarkson the Northwest.

Carter stated that it was the desire of every member that Campbell, after the complete organization of the committee by the appointment of his sucfollows: J. S. Clarkson of Iowa, Garret

Fire Caused by Slaked Lime.

PRESCOTT (Arlz.,) July 7.—Fire broke out in the basement of the Courthouse underneath the Sheriff's office early this morning and was quickly communicated to the upper part of the building before it could be extinguished. The Sheriff's office was badly damaged and the stairs leading to the courtroom on the third floor were burned. Workmen were engaged in building an addition to the structure and had lime stored in sacks in the basement. A fleavy rain fell at midnight and it is supposed the water ran into the building, slaking the lime and causing the fire. The loss is between $6000 and $8000, fully covered by insurance. son's wishes will be carried out in re-gard to the conduct of the campaign in Indiana and Illinois and Campbell will virtually direct the campaign in those Benefits of Irrigation.

The wonderful results of irrigation have been shown in a most remarkable manner by a freak of the Colorado River. Last year the mystery of the Salton Lake attracted the attention and

A mysterious fight took place at noon yesterday in Mrs. John F. Adams's millinery store at No. 271 North Main street. Early in the morning, as the story goes, Mrs. Adams and her hus-band had a serious quarrel over family matters, and when Adams left the place he informed her that he would kill her before nightfall.

At a few minutes .of noon he entered the store again, and it could be seen at a glance that he was under the influence of liquor. He was in a terrible rage, and as soon as he caught sight of her he began to abuse her, and drew a pis-tol and was about to shoot his wife when her brother, Arthur Gore, rushed in and grabbed Adams by the arm.

Quicker than a flash Gore had Adams flat on his back and proceeded to beat him into a state of unconsciousness.

Gore then left the store and a second found Adams lying on the floor apparently dead. He grasped the pistol that he drew on his wife in his right hand and on examining it the officer found it cocked, which proved conclusively that he intended to shoot, and would have succeeded had it not been for the Adams came around in a few minutes, and as he had only been stunned he got up and walked quietly off.

He was not arrested for the reason that the officer did not see the fight and knew nothing about it.

Later in the day Gore visited 'Justice Stanton's court and swore to a complaint charging Adams with an assault with a deadly weapon. Up to a late hour last night the officers had not been

One of the Most Picturesque Drives in the State—Beautiful Views. The members of the Board of Public Works yesterday made their weekly tour of inspection about the city, and, after looking into several matters that will come up at the meeting today, took were, first, by the hope of spoiling the Romans and enjoying their rich booty and, second, impelled by the fear of being crushed and scattered by a more powerful nation. Prof. Moses' talk carriage was abandoned and sent back over the trail in charge of the driver, while the members of the barty made their way on foot around by the reservoir and out to the electric cars at Buena Vista street bridge.

This is the road which it was stated could be built for $2000 when it was first proposed. It caused considerable debate in the Council at the time and was fought with great vigor. Mayor Hazard advocated the road, and al-though. Councilman Tufts facetionsly dubbed it the "burro trail." by which finally passed, the $2000 was appropriated and the work proceeded with. There is no doubt but what a great deal of work has been done, and a fair start has been made on what will some day to the work player in the start has been made on what will some day has the work player in the be the most picturesque drive in the southern part of the State, but it is claimed that the Park Commission has expended not only the $2000 appropri-ated for the purpose, but has put all its available funds into it besides, leaving the other parks to suffer, and that even the employés will have to wait for their wages until the new appropriation comes in, which, if correct, is a very bad state of affairs.

As to the road itself nothing short of a trip over it will give any adequate idea of what has been done. In many places the road has been literally blasted out of the sides of the hills, and all the sensations of a stage ride through the wildest mountain country can now be experienced within the corcan now be experienced within the cut-porate limits of the city. The blue gum groves have grown immensely, and at several points on the winding trail over-looking the masses of green foliage it is hard to realize that all is the growth of a few years. Altogether a trip over the trall is by far the most enjoyable in the city and it bids fair to be one of the most popular. At present a casual observer would say that at a low estimate at least $20,000 has been expended—and it is probably worth it, if the city had the money to spare—but it will yet take several thousand more before it is completed.

HOPEFUL CRANDALL

He Expects to Soon Breathe the Air of Freedom.

When He Will Return to the Boson of His Family.

A Question as to Which One He Will Choose.

Difficulties in His Way Should He Cor elude to Throw Over the Califorala Wife-Threats of Prosecution for Bigamy.

The Buffalo (N. Y.) Evening Times of July 1 has the following additional gos about Crandall, the insurance swindler:

swindler:
Attorney Arthur W. Hickman is of the opinion that his client, Bryant B. Crandall, will soon be acquitted of the charges made against him by the insurance companies, and be a free man.

Mr. Crandall himself hugs the same pleasant belief to his bosom and hints that he will at no distant time return to the bosom of his family, but fails to say which one.

which one.

Does he mean the wife and children whom he so cruelly deserted in this city more than six years ago, or the woman whom he espoused in San Diego, Cal., five more than such than Diego, can, and whom he espoused in San Diego, can, and years ago next August?

Presumably Mr. Crandall refers to his Buffalo family, for he is alleged to have said that he would return to his old home and renew the domestic relations severed and renew the domestic relations.

But he may not be able to do this. The California wife, the woman whom he mar-ried under the name of Wilson, may not consent to this.

She declares that if Bryant B. Crandall and B. B. Wilson are one and the same perfallo a woman called at the office of a Los Angeles paper [THE TIMES] to make a state-ment in reference to her relations with ment in reference to her relations with Crandall.

She said: "The papers have done me a great injustice by insinuating that I am simply the mistress of the man wao was taken to Buffalo yesterday. If his name is Crandall I know nothing of it. I married him in San Diego five years ago on the 11th of last August. I had known him but six months when we were married. ... He has always been a kind husband to me. He is a perfect gentlemen and I cannot believe he has done anything wrong. I am confident there is a mistake of some kind."

If Mrs. Crandall after reading the above still believes that her husband is and has been faithful to her, it is because she has some strong reason for so doing.

The paper from which the interview was taken was brought to the Los Angeles jail and given to Crandall by Mrs. Wilson. This Crandall kept studiously concealed from the Buffaloromers. From Grandall's own lips the Times has learned the history of Mrs. Wilson and his connection with her. She was born a British subject in Hallfax. Nova Scotia, forty-two years ago. Her father, John Shesler, was an attorney and a prominent man of affairs in that place. She was quite a belle, and when hardly more than 17 married a Mr Marshall, who was like her father an attorney. For some time the young couple maintained their residence at Halifax, but finally shall, who was like her father an attorney. For some time the young couple maintained their residence at Halifax, but finally, moved to St. Louis. There Mr. Marshall was admitted to the bar and became one of the most distinguished of the younger criminal practitioners. While just entering upon the full measure of his fame and prospective fortune the husband died of paralysis, leaving a wife and little daughter, who was one of the principals in the famous seduction case against Taylor, the hotel keeper, and in which Crandall, then known as Wilson, figured as a witness and as the stepfather of the girl and husband of her mother.

But this is anticipating the story.

told Crandall, she was left without means

Crandall also stated to at least one party Crandall also stated to at least one party in the jail that he had received several communications from Mrs. Wilson since his incarceration here, she addressing them to the care of a friend here.

Crandall-says Mrs. Wilson was for a time a resident of this city, but when he refuses to say.

From the above it will be seen that no reference is made to the mysterious Mrs. Rowland, the woman who claims dropped out of the case entirely, and for some days nothing has been heard of her. It is generally believed in Los Angeles that Mrs. Rowland and Mrs. Wilson are one and the same person, as was published in The Times some days ago. In fact Mrs. Wilson made admissions to her neighbors on Lincoln street which almost amounted to a confession that she betraved Crant and the same person as the same person as was published in The Times some days ago. After Crandall was taken East, and Mrs. Wil-son removed from Lincoln street, she denied that such was the case, but failed to explain certain conversations she had, in which she made contrary statements. As to the reward, it is not known whether it has been paid or not, but it is presumed that the detectives who were working on the case after the Rayland feature dependence. Rowland feature developed secured enough evidence to prevent the claim being made. If the money had been paid, Crandall would probably have been out of his trouble before now, and in Southern California again participating in its enjoyment. ing in its enjoyment.

Japanese Honeysuckle for Hedges.

[Crown Vista.]
Our cypress hedges are very pretty, but they are great dust catchers and to the taste of a great many, too formal in effect. To those who desire a hedge combining utility and beauty, we would effect. To those who desire a hedge combining utility and beauty, we would recommend the Japanese honeysuckle. Of course a rude frame work or wire fencing must be provided upon which to train it. It has long, flexible branchlets, terminated by the fragrant blossoms, red outside, nearly white within. Plant from three to six feet apart and weave the branches, as they grow in and out among the larger ones. It will seen dove the fence and blooms profusely in June. Another blooms profusely in June. Another variety, the Laricera fragrantissima, is a winter bloomer, is evergreen and the most fragrant of all honeysuckles. It is an erect shrub and grows to a height of six feet. There are about eighty species of honeysuckle and many of them are desirable for hedge purposes.

The Mob and What It Leads To. That the infuriated mob at Homestead, Pa., stayed their hands without the destruction of property, other than the barges upon which the Pinkerton men had been brought, is a matter of congratulation. It shows that, after all, there was some method in their mad-ness. They probably heeded the counsel of the more cool-headed leaders of their organization. This counsel, which saved the property of the Carnegie works, was probably actuated by the knowledge, first, that if the works were lestroyed, between 4000 and 5000 men would be out of work for an indefinite period, and, secondly, that the f Pennsylvania would be obliged to make good the loss, as happened in 1877 when the property of the Pennsylvania Railway Company was de-It is a crumb of comfort to know that there is some reason even in an American mob, and that they recognize the fact that there is a limit beyond which they cannot go without inflicting serious damage upon themselves. The interests of capital and labor are, then, bound up together-inseparably so-and even a mob of people, crazy with slaughter, recognize this fact.

The action, or rather the non-action of the Democratic Governor of Pennsylvania, is calculated to elicit the contempt of both sides in this controversy. Probably for political reasons-because he was afraid to antagonize the labor vote-he refused to call out the State militia when appealed to by the local authorities. So the conflict proceeded unchecked, and several more laboring men on both sides were added to the list of killed and wounded. We express it this way because it develops that there were numerous workingmen, and even members of labor organizations, in the Pinkerton They were, in fact, all laboring men-wage-earners. Capitalists do not hire themselves out as Pinkerton detectives. So then, by his pusillanimous conduct, Gov. Pattison allowed these laboring men to slaughter and maim each other, because, forsooth, he was afraid to antagonize the labor vote. A cowardly course fails to command the respect of even those who inspire the Therefore we say that Gov. Pattison will receive the contempt of the very men before whom he cringed when duty commanded him to exercise the military power of the State to quell the disturbance. It is hardly necessary to say that every lawabiding citizen will share the same sentiment toward him. No executive ever made political capital for himself by showing the white feather in such an emergency.

The Democratic press will make great capital out of this unfortunate outbreak. They have already commenced to im prove the golden opportunity. The blame will all be laid at the door of the Republican party. And why? Because the iron industry of the United States (and the Carnegie works among the rest) has grown up and flourished under a Republican tariff. Carnegie and his fellows have grown rich, and now they are attempting to reduce the wages of American laborers. If we grant the premises may we not ask the ironmakers whether under this system they have not in great numbers found employment all these years? Have they not secured for their labor 25 to 50 per cent more wages than the same class of labor secures in Europe? Even with the reductions proposed would they not be paid far better than their brothers on other side of the Atlantic? If the tariff has made the fortunes of the iron barons, has it not immeasurably bettered the lot of the workingmen? Many of them would not be in this country at all were it not for the building up of these industries.

A few days ago we showed that the McKinley law lowered the tariff on turned out. Perhaps it was this very lowering of the tariff as a concession to Democratic clamor, which opened the market to foreign competition moralized prices and impelled the owners of the Carnegie works to ask a reduction in the labor schedule. Now, suppose the iron-workers of Pennsyl vania and the wage-earners generally throughout the country join this Demo clamor. Suppose they throw their votes for the Democratic date on a free trade platform and elect him. Suppose the Democratic admineliminates the protective tariff altogether. Suppose that American manufactures are still more de noralized; that further requests come for a reduction of wages; that strikes shut down altogether. How much better off will American wage-earners be then? Their predicament may be compared to that of the man who cut off his own nose to spite his face. American wage-earners are not in a position to cast off tariff protection simply be cause they are jealous of manufacturers who have made fortunes out of their investments. Capital and labor must stand together.

And now as to this question of the right and the wrong of it, referring, of ourse to the outbreak at Homestead. It all resolves itself into a matter of property rights. If a man owns prop erty it is of no value to him unless he can control it-in fact, that is about the only prerogative of ownership. Now. if the owners of the Carnegie works could not hold possession of their plant nor operate it because a mob of dissatisfied workmen barred the doors, their property was virtually under confiscation. If the State is unable or unwilling to restore them their rights-if the men whom they hire to come to their assistance are shot down and driven off. what is left for them to do? Why simply they must abandon their property or make terms with the captors. If those terns are so severe that they cannot afford to carry on their business under them, then they may as well let the confiscation stand.

So far as the laborers go their labor is their capital, and they have the right to do with it as they see fit. If the wages offered them are not sufficient they are not obliged to work. Nobody can compel them to do so. They may quit at any time and seek other ployment. But they have no right to take possession of another man's property and prevent others who may be satisfied with the wages offered from working. The moment they do that they place themselves in the position of violators of law-they infringe the rights of property. They do that which, were the tables turned, would allow somebody to seize and appropriate their capital-their labor. That sort of thing has been exemplified a good deal throughout the world and even in this country. It is called slavery. The lawless strike, the boycott, the forcible detainer or obstruction of property rights is then the converse of slavery. It is, in fact, the principles of slavery applied to capital. When we come to this we have reached the anti-climax of human slavery; let us call it the slavery of capital. The pendulum cannot always remain on that side, it must swing back, and, perhaps, when it gets started it may swing too far. More than one nation has paved the way to subjection by indulging in too much license.

This question of property rights trikes deeper than any party platform. It strikes at the very foundations of society as established throughout the It strikes at all the laws defining individual rights; at all the decisions of courts on these laws; at all the industries public and private; at all the homes and all the possessions of the people; it strikes at civilization. Are we confronting such a revolution in the United States today? It certainly seems so when these rights are openly violated and the violation is justified b any considerable part of the community If this is the revolution that is brewing, let us understand it at the very beginning. Let us look Fate in the face. Let us prepare for the Commune Let us make our peace with the Anarchists.

The Question of Manufactures We print today an article on the mann facturing industries of Los Angeles showing that at the present time no les than sixty different classes of manufactured articles are made in the by 200 firms. It has been usual hith erto in lists of this description to include a number of minor industries which cannot properly be classed among the manfacturing establishments. I this case only the more important in dustries have been included. showing made is quite a gratifying one, and will surprise many who have not closely watched the de velopment of this branch of the city's These factories employ, in the aggregate, a large number of women-how many cannot be told without a careful canvass. There was a manufacturers' association in Los An geles a few years ago, but it died with the rise of the real estate boom. The present would be a good time to attempt revise that organization, or to get the Chamber of Commerce to establish a bureau for the purpose of gathering such articles as the Carnegie works and disseminating information as to openings for factories, fuel supply, markets and so forth. Los Angeles has now reached a size and importance that render it necessary. to take up the question of manufactures future as in the past. It is manifestly products-such as hides, for instanceacross the continent, and reimporting them in a manufactured state, whe they might well be manufactured at home. Any section which perseveres in such a spendthrift course as this ist inevitably fall behind in the race, in the long run. As stated in the article, the chief obstacle to be overcome in the line of es-tablishing manufacturing industries ockouts occur; that the works are here is that of fuel. There are, however, many industries in which fuel plays but a small part, such as the manufacture of places, harness and saddlery, cordage, cigars, clothing, jackets and overalls, and many others. Furthermore, there is little doubt that we could receive a supply of cheaper fuel if we put our shoulders to the wheel in earnest. This might be done by the building of the Salt Lake road, but a better plan would be a systematic development of our local petroleum deposits, and the construction of a pipe line from the nearest field to enough petroleum to run the machinof Southern California it would erv save this section several millions of dollars, which is now sent away every year for coal, and, incidentally, start up many other productive industries. It is an encouraging feature of manufacturing that one industry leads on to another; thus, fruit-preserving factories lead to a demand for glass jars and boxes, tanneries to shoe and harness factories, and so forth, in an endless chain of productive increase.

If a little of the $10,500,000 on de posit in the eighteen banks of Dos Angeles were judiciously expended in en couraging the establishment of manu facturing industries Los Angeles might safely anticipate the doubling of her population by the end of the decade.

Grand Operations.—Monday will introduce a comedian who undoubtedly has done more to perfect comic opera productions in this country than any other person. The name of Francis Wilson is contemporaneous with all that is good, wholesome and refined in comic opera. He has by his superior methods raised the standard to its present high degree. He was the first artist to introduce entire special scenery in productions of this nature, the first artist to introduce entire special scenery in productions of this nature, the first artist to engage a company which for numbers and talent outrivaled all predecessors, and the only comic opera comedian that could perform for a whole scason at a time at the same theater in New York city. Mr. Wilson will give us The Merry Mondrah, a comic opera with the libretto by J. Cheever Goodwin and the music by Woolson Morse.

WASHINGTON, July 7 .- [By the Asso stated Press. | Senate-. The discussion of the labor troubles at Homestead was continued today by Senators Palmer, Voorhees, Hale, Gallinger, Stewart, and Sanders. Mr. Palmer said the presence of Those large manufacturing establishments would have to be regarded as holding their property subject to the co-relative rights of those without whose services their property would be utterly valueless. There was only conceded to them the right to reasonable profit on capital invested in the enterprises. He maintained, furthermore, that the workingmen having spent their lives in a particular line of service had a right to insist on perma nency of employment and also on reasonable compensation for their services. He maintained that at the time of the assaults the people at Homestead were where they had a right to be on the ground. They had a right to de fend their conduct on the line of their rights. They hope to prevent the bill from coming to a vote, but insist that if it does they can de-feat it. Of course this can only be done by the aid of Republican votes. When it comes to that pass, however, they will vote strongly against the measure if it shall be made clear to them the case of the De Camp Lumber Company vs. S. H. Tolhurst et al. yesterday, ordering findings drawn in accordance with the following briet opinion:

This was an action to foreclose material men's ilens, and a decree was ordered in favor of certain claimants. The contract for the erection of the building was made by the defendant. S. H. Tolhurst, the reputed owner of the property, and complied with the provisions of the statute. The defendant, Josefa Tolhurst, wife of said S. H. Tolhurst, was the real owner of the property and stood by and saw the building erected and gave no notice of non-responsibility, as provided for in section 1192 (C. C. P.). The question now presented is whether the lien should be limited to 25 per cent. of the contract price retained by the defendant, S. H. Tolhurst, or should extend to the value of the materials furnished. Plaintiffs urge that the contract is void, and this being so the materials furnished. Plaintiffs urge that the contract is void, and this being so the materials furnished. Plaintiffs urge that the contract is void, and this being so the materials are under section 1183 (C. C. I do not, however, think the contract is void simply because made by the reputed owner. The defendant, Josefa Tolhurst, having failed to give the notice specified by section 1192 (supra,) is estopped from denying the validity of the lien, but I fail to see how she can be placed in a worse position than she would be had she and not her husband been the contracting party; or how the plaintiffs can be in a better position than they would be had she and not her husband been the contracting party; or how the plaintiffs can be in a better position than they would be had she and not her husband been the contracting party; or how the plaintiffs can be in a better position than the 25 per cent. retained under the terms of the contract, and the provisions of section 1184 (C. ROSEDALE SCHOOL

The Graduating Exercises Held Wednes-day Evening—The Programme.

There was a pleasant little entertain-ment out at Rosedale Wednesday evening in honor of the four graduates from the Rosedale school. The exercises were held in the Mt. Olivet church, which was comfortably filled. The first number on the programme was a selection by a quartette consist-ing of Misses Jessie L. Davis, Lillie Warren, Maggie McClean and Etta Mc-Garvin, all of whom acquitted them-selves very creditably.

Next was an essay on "Curiosity," by Miss Clara E. Titus, followed by music by the Chambers Banjo and Guitar Club.

A recitation by Miss Jessie Davis came next, after which there was a song by Miss Birdie Warren, which was very nicely given.

An essay on "Purpose" by William M. Peckham, the only boy who graduated this year, came next on the programme, the young man handling his subject very cleverly, and instancing a number of great men who met with honor and fortune by having a purpose in life. nicely given.

After music by Misses Jessie L. Davis and Emma Dryden came the tambourine drill by a number of the young ladies, which was the feature of the evening. The ladies were becomingly costumed in gay colors, and the tambourines were covered with bright ribbons, the genometer being very pleasing. The After music by Misses Jessie L. Davis covered with bright riboons, the general effect being very pleasing. The audience showed its appreciation by a generous encore.

Selections by the Chambers' Mandolin Club followed, after which there was a recitation by Miss Lizzie Warren, was a recutation by Miss Lizzie warren, an essay, on flowers by Miss Minnie Bab-cock and a song by Miss Mosher. Rev. R. M. Smith delivered an ad-dress, after which Miss Olive C. Hyde gave the valedictory, and the graduates were presented with a number of pretty

More Trouble About the Boys and the River—A Pleasant Surprise. The swimming season has set in in earnest and the police are beginning to have their bands full looking after the irrepressible small boy, who will per-sist in a proverbial disregard for common law and decency and go in bathing in the river. Mrs. J. F. Gray who resides at the corner of Kuhrts and Johnson streets, last evening gave her daughter, Miss Ethel, a pleasant surprise in the form of a "shell party." A large number of the young lady's friends and acquaintances responded to invitations and the evening was a merry one throughout.

Everybody who can get away from work or business is now leaving for the heach or mountains and a degreesing beach or mountains, and a depressing state of social stagnation is set-ting in, probably to continue for the space of a couple of months. In the meantime the tent meetings being hell by the Advent Church and an ochell by the Advent Church and an oc-casional social given by one of the other denominations afford the only public entertainment or week-night amuse-ment on the East side. Now is a good-time for a genuine midsummer sensa-tion, and many tired individuals are anxiously waiting for something of the kind to develop.

T don't cost you a cent to read this advertisement; it may amuse you and it will certainly benefit you if you are not too lazy to look into its merits. A man said it made him tired to read them. He was born tired; it made him tired to get up in the morning, and when his wife carried him a tiny roast pig on a silve plater into his bed-room before he got up, he looked at the pig and then at his wife, grunted, then turned over and went to sleep, he was so tired. Now we don't want that kind of trade; it is the live trade we want to catch, and we are catching it. Trade a third larger than a year ago; and, oh! how grand it is to see how eager the clerks are to make a check. We sell Mr. and Mrs. Coats's Thread, Mr. Butterick's patterns, and we now have his Delineator for August; it is a real good book; a dollar a year or 15c a single copy. Mr. Reynolds's Shoes are being closed out at cost; Mr. Reynolds may not like this, but we want the room to enlarge the Cloak Department; we have already written him an apology for selling his shoes so cheap, but go they must—you are the one that is benefited. Mr. Reynolds's shoes don't make corns; they have the right style to them, and at our prices they are a good silver do'lar saved for you; try a pair before it is too late. Twenty-five-cent Muslin Underwear, 50-cent Muslin Underwear, 75-cent Muslin Underwear and Dollar Underwear; better made and better goods than you will find elsewhere for the same money. Trade doubling up in this department. We shall speak a piece in Mr. Otis's paper next Sunday; it will take a whole page to have our say, andl Monday wil bring in a big erowd-there will be standing room only. "Skingal cure increases longevity the world."

The above are two fac sim'les of many REWARDS OF MERIT or DIPLOMAS of PROFES-SIONAL SHILL which have from time to time been awarded to the CELEBRATED CHINESE PHYSICIAN, DR. Words, for his superior medical abilities and curative powers.

It has long been customary among the Chinese people when one becomes sick and when repeated attempts to cure him have failed, and he is perhaps given up to die, if, after having been taken to an eminent physician, he be cured of his disease—the cured, too in addition to the regular fee for professional services rendered, makes the physician a present as a token of gratitude for his restoration to health and the prolongation of his life. This present consists usually of a broad plank, presenting much the appearance of a sign-board, fill contained the received present consists and his friends. It is a motto which nightly compliments the physician for his great which once afflicted thing to see a great number of these CoMPLIMENTARY DIPLOMAS adorning the office walls of Chinese physicians in their native country, and indeed a number of the most successful ones in this country are the happy possessors of a few of these high tokens of very superior medical ability.

Carter and Bumiller Will Meet in the Finals Today.

It Will be the Greatest Match of the Season.

What Happened at the Courts Tes terday.

Many Speciators Present - Handson Prizes on Exhibition Various Notes of Interest-The Doubles Are Now On.

Yesterday was the second day of Re Vesterday was the second day of Rechondo's annual tennis tournament. A number of visitors came down on the early trains from Los Angeles, Santa Monica, Pasadena afid other towns to watch their favorites battle for prizes and honor, and they found plenty to interest them, for there was hardly an uninteresting contest played. The hotel presents a livelyappearance in the evenings and during the day, when play at the courts is suspended, for the contestants and their friends form a jolly crowd, who know well how to a jolly crowd, who know well how to mingle social pleasures with hard work on the asphait. Most of the day was occupied with men's singles, which were concluded, except the finals. This interesting event will be played between Carter and Buwhile be played between Carter and Bumiller at 2:30 o'clock today. This hour will permit people leaving Los Angles on the early afternoon trains and returning in the evening after it is finished. That it will be a great contest, no one acquainted with the records of the two players can doubt. Carter has hitherto proven himself flavincible in this part of the country.
He has been away for nearly two years, during which time he has done little practiting while leve men have been forging to the front. While the majority of the people who ought to know, incline to the belief that he will win, there are others who pin their faith on his younger, but formidable opponent. Bumiller made a great record last year. In his match with Arnold he proved himself possessed of remarkable staying qualities and he showed great headwork at critical times. If he should beat Carter today it will be a notable event in the history of local tennis.
The match will no doubt attract a large crowd, for both contestants have hosts of admirers who will make it a point to be on hand and whoop things up.

WEDNESDAY'S CLOSING GAMES.

He played in line form, his hand strokes being very effective. Bumiller was not at his best, but his game was strong enough to have knocked out almost any other opponent. The tables were turned in the second set, which was a spirited one. Bumiller won, 6-4. Much interest centered in the result of the deciding set, which, it was anticipated, would be hard jumpt, but the spectators were dishard fought, but the spectators were dis-appointed for after Bumiller had gained a lead of several games Germain lost heart lead of several games Germain lost heart and allowed his opponent to win by the one-sided score of 6-1.

The other remaining contest of the aftermoon was that between Butcher and Manning. Butcher is a Riverside player, who has come prominently to the front the past year. He plays a strong game, which is characterized by hard strokes and great accuracy in placing the ball. His victory over Manning was won on Jis merits. The score was 6-1, 5-6, 6-3.

WHAT HAPPENED TESTERDAY.

Works won by default over Bettner and Cosby woo by default over Bettner and Cosby woo by default over Barry. This completed the second round and when the play opened yesterday only eight men out of the twenty-one who had entered were left in the ring to win the championship of 1892. They were Turner of Los Angeles, Edwards of Riverside, Carter of Santa Monica, Routh of Santa Monica, Bumiller of Los Angeles, Works of San Diego, Butcher of Riverside and Cosby of Los Angeles, The first contest ended was that between Bumiller, who won the champion-ship here last summer over Arnold in the most brilliant contest probably that has ever been witnessed in Southern California, and Works, the champion of San Diego. and Works, the champion of San Diego. Bumiller won two straight sets. 6-3, 6-2, 2, but the match was more evenly contested than the score indicates. A rumor was heard before the tournament opened to the effect that Bumiller was not in form, but after this match it was heard no more. Some of the spectators went so far as to threaten vengeance on the man who had circulated it. Works played a strong and at times a brilliant game, but weakened just when a good stroke was most needed. The first set between Turner and Edwards was a ratiling good one and was won by Turner by one game. After that Edwards was a ratiling good one and was won by Turner by one game. After that Edwards was a ratiling good one and was won by Turner by one game. After that Edwards was a ratiling good one and was won by Turner by one game. After that Edwards was a ratiling look on way, he will be the contestants have made their debut in this tournament as promising players, and both are likely to be heard from in the future. To the surprise of most of those present Butcher won an easy victory over Cosby. He captured two straight sets and allowed his Los Augeles opponent but one game in each. Routh, who is one of the youngest players in the tournament, after winning two hard-earned victories, had in the inevitable course of events as outlined by the drawing, the dire misfortune torun by the drawing, the dire misfortune to run an up against Bob Carter in this round. As might have been predicted, Mr. Routh, succumbed in two straight sets, but to his credit be it said that he won four games in the first set and three games, in the second, a record which many more experienced players have failed to make under similar circumstances. This closed the round, and the many distributed the round, and the many given the round of the missing the missing the many more respectively. found and the morning's play, leaving only Edwards, Carter, Bumiller and Butcher in the race. According to the draw Edwards was pitted against Carter and Bumiller against Butcher. Adjournment was then made until 2 o'clock, at which hour it was announced the semi-finals would be played.

THE SEMI-FINALS.

THE SEMI-FINALS.

Both matches were well contested, but it only required two sets in each case to finish them. Carter found in Edwards an unwill-ing victim, who seemed not at all rattled from the fact that Santa Monica's famous champion was on the other side of the net. Mr. Edwards worked hard and at times he put up a really brilliant game, but somehow or other, as is his custom, Mr. Carter got there just the same with two consecutive sets to his credit. The score was:

Over on the opposite side of the grounds Art Bumiller of Los Angeles was winning fresh laurels for himself by effecting a combination between his racquet and the canvas-covered balls which Mr. Butcher of Riverside couldn't exactly get onto. In the first set the state of the set of can as covered balls which Mr. Butcher of Riverside couldn't exactly get onto. In the first set the combination was especially effective, so much so, indeed, that Mr. Butcher was winning one. In the next set the Riverside player began to hit the ball in a way that would have won against a less skillful opponent. The score was tied at four games and it looked for a time as if a third set would be necessary to decide the match. Bumiller, however, had his eye on the ball—an expression which applies to tennis as well as to baseball—and by brilliant work he won the set 6-1. This leaves him to compete with Carter this afternoon for first place, as already mentioned.

MEN'S DOUBLES.

At noon the drawing was made in the men's doubles. The following teams were entered: Maning and Stephens, Bettner and Edwards. Butcher and Singleton, Bymiller and partner, Cawston and Routh, Cosby and Germain. Barker and Works, Turner and Way, Acker and Halsted, Carter and Lester. Manning and Stephens were drawn against Butcher and Singleton, and Bettner and Edwards against Bumiller and partner. The other teams drew byes. Butcher and Singleton won an easy victory over Manning and Stephens, 61, 6-3. Bettner and Edwards won by default over Bumiller and partner. Cosby and Germain beat Barker and Works two straight sets, 6-3, 6-1. Carter and Lester beat Acker and Halsted, 6-1, 6-1. This concluded the day's play. MEN'S DOUBLES.

DESERTED BY HER HUSBAND.

the following:
A story of heartless desertion comes from the neighboring town of Beaumont. It is hard to realize that a creature so base and so utterly dead to every feeling of manhood so utterly dead to every feeling of manhood could exist in a climate that conduces to all the virtues. About eighteen months ago C. A. Willis was sent to Beaumont as night operator. He was accompanied by his amiable wife and five interesting and bright young children. He, attended to business in a satisfactorn manner, although while at Beaumont it was whispered that his virtue was not adamantine, and when the new station at Redlands Junction was established, he was promoted to be agent at heave station at neutralina anticon was established, he was promoted to be agent at that point. He took charge of the office in April, and left his family at Beaumont, and it was said that he did not evince any great desire to have them go to his new field of labor. However, in May his wife went down and met with a cool rehis new field of labor. However, in May his wife went down and met with a cool reception, and Willis continually importuned her to go West and visit her mother. Mrs. Willis was not in traveling condition, and was delivered of a child in May. This seemed to make Willis worse, and, about three weeks ago he got on a drunk, which resulted in his discharge by the company. He then left, leaving his wife and sk small children destitute. Mrs. Willis and her children returned to Beaumont, where they are now living on $50, contributed by the operators from Demiag to Los Angeles, Willis is said to be at Sacramento, or hear there, where "the woman in the case" has lately gone. It is a lamentable affair, and Mrs. Willis has the sympathy of all who are cognizant of the facts.

Impure or vitiated blood is nine times out of ten caused by some form of constipation or indigestion that clogs up the system, when the blood naturally becomes impregnated with the effete matier. The old Sarsaparillas attempt to reach this condition by attacking the blood with the drastic mineral "potash." The potash theory is cld and obsolete. Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is modern. It goes to the seat of the trouble. It arouses the liver, kidneys and bowels to health all action, and invigorates the circulation, and the impurities are quickly carried off through the impurities are quickly carried off through the natural channels. Chas. Lee, at Beamish' Third and Market streets, S. F., vrites: "I took it for vitlated blood and while on the first bottle became convineed of its meritr, for I could feel it was working a change. It cleansed, purified and braced me up generally, and everything is now working full and regular."

6520 ACRES

Offered by the Southern California Land Company, 230 North Mair Street, adjoining First National Bank.

1630 Shares at $100 Each, In Installments of $5.00 per Month Without Interest.

Not a Land Distribution, but An Investment of Money! Each share will earn 5 per cent. per month on each $100 for five years, and has the best real estate security.

Sixteen hundred and thirty shares at 8100 each will buy the Fowler Ranch of 6520 acre with the present improvements and the prospective improvements to be made by the present owners at 4 cost to them of 830,000. This splended property is situated on the border line of Thiage and Kern counties, four miles west of the Valey Road of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and four miles north of the branch line to the oil wells and twelve miles west of the present line to San Francisco. A survey of the Santa Fe line has been made through the western portion of this tract.

Prospectus.

We are soliciting subscriptions for shares in an incorporation to be organized for the purpose of buying from the present owners the Fowler R inch, containing 533 acres, situate on the border line of Thiare and Kern counties, for 825 per acre, with its present improvements and with 130,000 of improvements to be made by the owners and included in the price of 825 per acre, as stated. This is not a land distribution, but an investment of money, with return of money and profits, by dividing the tract into 62 acre subdivis-ons, and after the improvements are made, selling at a future period at 800 or more per acre. There will be 1800 shares in the corporation at 8160 each, to be paid for in 35 monthly installments without interest. Ou the sixth payment the subscribers will incorporate, will elect their omeers, and the trustee they may appoint will receive a deed for 6800 acres, in escrow, clear of all incumbrances, with the cartificate of title attached of the Abstract and Title; housages Company of Los Angeles, to be delivered to the corporation when the purchase money is paid. The 850,000 proposed improvements guaranteed by a deposit in bank of this amount, to be paid out to the contractors an certified vouchers at they progress with the work.

Description of the Property.

Description of the Property.

The land is a rich, black loam, and is known as the Fowier Ranch. It was purchased many years ago by the late Senator Tom Fowler of Tulare, when he had the opportunity of obtaining the cream of Tulare and Kern counties. It is in the center of the artesian fruit and alfulfa belt, has upon it now a sample artesian well flowing 800,000 gallens, and is in the immediate definity of the largest flowing wells in the State.

The Present Price and What the Investment Will Psy.

The low rate of the purchase, 820 per acre, with all the present and the projected improvements herein midted, made and paid for by the present owners, at a cost of 830,600, enables us to guararnite at the lowestrate of sale in the future, say slub per acre within it eyears, an interest of 5 per cent a month on each share of 5100 from the date of subscription.

This tract has one section already fenced, a colony house, the present flowing well, large reservoir, etc. The improvements to be made by the present owners will consist of an irrigating canal of 12 miles, six more artesian wells as feeders, survey and division into doare tracts, survey and it is miles the town of Colonna, broad avenues through the entire property playth de with trees, etc. etc.

The fall of the land is sufficient for drainage and admirably adapted for the conveyance of water by fanal, as there is nothing to obstruct its course.

How the 5 per feat, per Month on Each $100 is to be Earned for the Five Years.

the end of the two years on 1630 shares. Sales of 6300 acres at $100 per acre;

Sales of 880 town lots of one-quarter acre each ...... 44,000 0)

This would leave a surplus of $22,000 after paying the interest of 5 per cent. per month This surplus would meet all expenses for the full term; salary of sperintendent, taxes expenses attending sales and any extra improvements that the trusters might deem Placed Before the Public for Investment.

Placed Before the Public for Investment.

The Southern California Land Company of Los Angeles now places this tract before the public and strength recommends it for the investment of large or of small amounts. This company has conducted in the past seven years many large successful land deals in Los Angeles. It is client to the control of the past seven years many large successful land deals in Los Angeles. It is client to the control of the clients have numbered hundreds of investors in the Childs tract. Utiliston tract city Center tract, etc. Its dealings have amounted to hundreds of thousands of dollars and it stands today one of the most popular firms in this section of the state.

An investment with perfect security and carning 5 per cent. per month on each $100 share for a term of five years from the date of the first payment of $3, must arrest dae attention of every of $6. If will also be boree in mind that should the stockholders elect to sell at $100 an agree within any two years and a half, half of the time that we here propose, their investment will net them 10 per cent per month for that period.

Full Security.

This is not a lind distribution, but an investment of money with return of money and interest. Building associations and savings banks are all founded on real estate security and pay from 5 follower per cent. per year. Here you have not only the best real state security but your investment also earns 5 per cent per month, and at the same tirrs you own your own proportion of the land, 4 acres to each share, until it is sold by your own trustees, and then you have your division of profits.

Extensive and magnificent enterprises in the way of improvement and progress are of such common occurrence in Pasadena hat they have ceased to awaken the inter-st and enthusiasm they deserve when pub-

One of the most important innovations which will exercise marked influence on Pasadena's future prosperity is the estab-ment of the Polytechnic Manual Training school, and even yet the people here do not eem to take in the value and vastness of the projected institution.

Work nevertheless is progressing, and the Work nevertheless is progressing, and the ground was yesterday broken for the new buildings. This department will but supplement the Throop University proper but in the minds of many will be its most important practical and useful feature.

The contract for the general work on the building was awarded at a recent meeting of the Building Committee to Mathew Slavin, the lowest bidder for the carpenter and general work. The bids of Perry Bonam for plumbing and J. B. Hughes for masonry were the lowest in their special lines, and the contract for the wnole was awarded Mathew Slavin with the understanding that the contract price of the entire work should not exceed these three lowest hids. It is expected the building owest bids. It is expected the building will cost $15,000 exclusive of all furnish will cost $15,000 exclusive of all furnishings, or apparatus, and the contract calls for its completion by September 25.

The Executive Committee of the Throop University is also making plans for fitting up two floors in the University building for use as a home for students. Mrs. J. B. Sanderline has been engaged to act as maton, and there will be also in the building a preceptress and a class officer. The intention is to thus provide a comfortable, suitable and economicable home for Throop University students of both sexes, so that pupils coming from abroad may here find not only home comforts but proper chaperonage and congenial companions.

There will also be provided in close proximity a students' cale, where meals will be served at moderate prices and special at-imity a students' cai 6, where meals will be served at moderate prices and special attention will be paid to the welfare of the students. These arrangements it is expected will be complete September 15, the college opening September 20.

Many other projects are on foot for making this university in all respects one of the best and most progressive educational institution of this State, and the prospects of its popularity for the coming year are most flattering.

THE LAND OF FLOWERS.

In the editorial correspondence of the Waterloo Press, N. Y., an interesting article is published on the national editorial rip through Southern California, and great space is devoted to Los Angeles. Pasadena comes in for her share of praise from which the following is an extract: "Pasadena is surely the garden spot of California. When we returned to our cars we were completely capityated and could hardly believe we were not dreaming of some fairlieve we were not dreaming of some fairy lieve we were not dreaming of some fairy Jand. During our absence a committee of Pasadena ladies had taken possession of our train and literally li ed each car with choice flowers. In exery conceivable place where flowers could be hung for tied fast, from the backs of the car seats to the lamp brackets, and even on the engine that pulled the train, were placed beautiful bouquets of choice roses, callas, carnations and other choice flowers. There were bakets for the oldest lady, the heaviest gentleman, and for everybody else. Our friend McDonaid of the South Bend Times carried off the basket labeled for the heaviest editor.

The fruit evaporator is now working full-handed on apricots. The number of hands employed varies from thirty or forty to Meeting of the City Council—Death of Hon. charles Fernald.

At the regular meeting of the City Council yesterday afterhoon Councilman Gidney moved that the minutes of the preceding meeting of that body be so amended so to show that an appeal was taken from the action of the Mayor in ruling out of order the motion of the Councilman from the Fifth to indefinitely bostpone action on the communication from the Mayor with respect to the nomination of J. J. Boyce for the position of City Autorney.

The Mayor said the saine was an expunging of the record, and vias not in harmony with the real facts, but he would put the motion as it was his duity so to do, and the motion was unanimously carried.

Councilman Welch surroduced a resolution of regret at the death of Hon Charles Fernald, and moved tile Council adjourn and attend the funeral in a body.

The protest which was received at the council and the meeting in the graduet the death of the council and the words between the parties, Henderson struck Strain in the face. The former was at once put under arrest, was tried in the Justice's Court and fined, which fine, it is stated, was cheerfully paid by another director, who is not on the best of terms with Strain, and apparently was willing to pay for seeing him drubbed. It is worthy of remark, in this connection, that all the fighting and bickering is being done by the officers from the country districts; those from Anaheim manage to get along amicably.

stin of regret at the death of Hon Charles Fernald, and moved the Council adjourn and attend the funeral in a body.

The protest which was received at the former meeting against the grading of Bathstreet was, upon the motion of Councilman Hollway, disrejarded, and the work ordered done.

A very lengthy communication was received from A. A. Smil is, agent of the Pactific Insurance Union, stating that Santa Barbara would be transferred from the third to the so. and tariff in case the city placed ten electric tre-alarm boxes. In this matter the Mayor informed the Council that a local insurance man had stated to him that the same we said lower the aggregate amount paid on policies by the citizents about $4500.

A communication was read from the Mayor calling the attention of the Council to the condition of the retaining wall of the boulevard in which the stated that the same had not been constructed according to specifications and world not stand the action of the waves, and recommended that the different members of the Council, attended by the City Engineer, make a personal cramination of the same at 10 o'clock to morrow.

Councilman Hollway stated that he had examined the same and pronounced the work faulty.

There are a large number of taxpayers in this district under the initial G, and what effect the omission will have upon the collection of taxes from them remains to be seen. Some one, evidently, has been guilty of gross carelessness in the matter.

The Misses Aubert from Kentucky have bought the Fischer place of five acres, on the south end of Los Angeles street, for $1400, and will improve the same and live thereon.

Several families here are making preparations to moove to the landing for the summers. Some one will be an adjourned meeting tomorrow evening. Commissioner Perry expects to receive a lot of t. nts from Pomona in a few days, to incre se his force of fumigators. They have several months' work ahead of them still.

The Fourth was a quiet day here. There The Fourth was a quiet day here. There were 414 tickets sold to Los Angeles and the coast, and about the same number of our people celebrated at Pontona, Riverside and the canou. When we can send 700 or 800 people away on the Fourth it would seem to be eminently appropriate to have a celebration, at home. Growth of Our Garden.
[Pacific Rural Press.]
The greatest delight of the amateur horticulturist and the greatest encourhorticulturist and the greatest encourment to labor and investment on the part of the commercial orchardist or vineyardist is the rapidity with which results can be produced in California. Nor is it difficult to explain this marked advantage which this State has over most other regions of the temperate zone. When growth starts in February and proceeds until November, or even later, it is not wonderful that want energy is able to accomplish great extension. The fact is, that the valley and foothfill portions of California have tension. The fact is that the valley and foothill portions of California have from one and a half to twice the length of growing season which can be relied upon in other regions lying under the same parallels of latitude, and where moisture is adequate to allow the plant to turn to its own account all the degrees of temperature which are furnished it, the growth and development of the plant is commensurate with the growing season which it enjoys. Hence our wonderfully rapid attainment of size in tree and vine; hence also the earlier year of hearing for trees which have practically made two years growth in one. If constant readers in other climes will bear this point in mind, they will not be so startled with the records of growth and early fruiting which are sent them from this State, nor will they hesitate to believe reports which are honestly put forth. As corollaries to this proposition may be mentioned the facts that some decidnous trees become evergreen, that some annuals become perennial, that some-times nurseries have to be re-located times nurseries have to be re-located to get places where the leaves will fall before the time for digging and selling trees, that some decidnous fruit trees and vines sometimes put forth a second and even a third bloom and mature two and three crops, which, though as a rule undesirable, testify to the salubrity of the climate and to the stimulus which of the climate and to the stimulus which it gives to plant growth.

With these things in mind, it is not wonderful that even in a portion of a year it is possible to transform a waste of arid land into a promise of golden-like verdure.

Last week the Fruit-growers' Union, which was formed here a couple of weeks ago, sold its entire crop of apri-coti to Sherman, Marr & Higgins of Chi:220 for $20 per ton. This firm will have its drying grounds on the fiveacre tract on the corner of Crow and Towne avenues, and George G. Coryell, who had charge of the Haight Fruit Congany's drying operations last year, will auperintend the work. The fruit growers have good reason to be satisfied with the results of their organization. They have sold their apricots for a good price, considering the season, and ite having much better offers for other feciduous crops than were talked of a few weeks ago. The firm which has contracted to handle the apricot crop here has a large fruit house in acre tract on the corner of Crow and more than 200, which is accounted for by the fact that some factories produce two or more distinct classes of manufactured goods:

Artificial stone works 13, baskets, blank books, boilers 5, boxes—paper 3, wood 4; brass works 4, brewery, bricks 7, brooms 2, candy 12, canes, chairs 2, carriages and wagons 17, cigar boxes, cigars 8, coffee and spice mills 4, copper works, cornices 3, crackers 2, curled hair, distilleries 3, doors, sash and blinds 11, electrotypers 2, fences 2, foundries and machine shops 8, fruit cannery, fruit preserving, furniture 3, galvanized iron 13, gloves, ice 6, leather goods 2, maccaroni and vermicelli, marble and granite 5, feed mills 6, flour mills 2, woolen mills, musical instruments, wines and brandies 3, pickles 3, picture frames 7, pipe—gas and—water 8, sewer 8, planing mills 18, plating works, pottery, pressed brick 2, shirts 3, showcases 2, soap, soda water 5, street cars, starch 2, stoneware, suspenders, terra cotta, tools, trunks, umbrellas, vinegar 2, wire works 4.

Many of the enterprises enumerated above might with profit be extended, and many other branches of manufacture which are not now represented might be introduced. The great drawback to the extension of manufactures in Los Angeles is the high price of fuel. Petroleum, which is now produced in this section in considerable quantities and is extensively used for fuel, costs more than twice as much as it does in the East. The difference between the cost of coal or wood here and there is still greater.

For a reduction in the price of fuel the manufacturers of Los Angeles look in two directions—to an increased out-put of petroleum or better transporta-tion racilities therefor, and to the building of the much-talked of railroad to Salt Lake, on the completion of which we are promised coal laid down in Los Angeles at $5, a top. Experiin Los Angeles at $5 a ton. Experiments as to the comparative value of oil and coal for fuel show that three barrels of California oil is equal to one ton of the best available bituminous coal at its lowest and often reaches the average of two and a half barrels to one ton. It has been proposed that a three-inch pipe line—should be laid thirty miles to connect the Puente dis-trict with Los Angeles city. Twelve miles of this line would be through oil-producing territory. miles of this line would be through oilproducing territory. A specimen of artificial fuel was shown several years ago at the Chamber of Commerce consisting of a preparation of peat and other fiber into which was infused about 5 per cent. of crude petroleum, or a larger amount of melted brea.
The fuel was prepared under heavy pressure and made into bricks at a cost of about $5 at on. It was claimed to make a fuel easily handled, cleaner than coal, producing almost no ash, and yielding nearly double the heat derived from the combustion of an equal amount of average coal. Peat beds from two to ten feet in depth cover considerable areas, in this section around Westminster, Compton and on around Westminster, Compton and on the Chino ranch. There are, however, many branches There are, however, many branches of manufacturing in which fuel plays but a small part. Moreover, as a set off to the present high price of fuel, the location of Los Angeles for a manufacturing city is all that can be desired. We have a mild climate, in which work can be carried on all the year round, and where expensive buildings are not necessary to keep out the bitter winter cold. This is a most important factor to take into consideration in estimating the advantages of a location for manufacturing purposes. The location of Los Angeles, close to the ocean, in the center of a network the ocean, in the center of a network of railroads, all converging here, with two transcontinental roads reaching us over easy grades and more coming, is peculiarly advantageous from a manufacturing point of the convergence.

acturing point of view.

The following are but a few of the numerous openings for manufacturing enterprises in Los Angeles:

The utilization of our fruit product by canning, drying, crystallizing and making into jam is capable of almost indefinite extension.

In the immediate neighborhood of Los Angeles there should be three or four beet sugar factories like that at Chino, but conducted under the cooperative system, which gives the farmer a share in the profits of the factory.

Much bacon and ham that is now imported might be put up here.

Since bacon and name that is now imported might be put up here.

Castor and linseed oil could be manufactured on a large scale. A small castor oil mill is now being erected. The castor bean grows around Los Angeles like Jack's beanstalk.

We still import carloads of pickles

We still import carloads of pickles from Europe.

An attempt was made to start a glass factory several years ago, and good glass was made from sand dug within the city limits, but dull times prevented progress. A gentleman from Pittsburgh is now looking into the question of reviving the project. The chief difficulty in this case, as in so many others, is the fuel question. It is estimated that the freight and breakage alone would cover the cost of production.

Immense quantities of raw hides are shipped East and reimported as shoes, saddles and harness, there being only one small tannersy in this section. The expense for tallow and neat's foot oil in manufacture is less here than in the East. Tanbark can be had from Lower California, or the extract imported from the East. A harness and saddle factory and a shoe factory would follow such a tannery. At present these articles are made only on a small scale.

Among other articles which might be profitably produced here may be mentioned cigers, from tobacco which can be grown, here; manilla and other papers, also fine tissue paper for wrapping fruit, cordage, working pants, shirts, jackets and overalls. Most of our milk and butter crocks, jam and fruit jars, are still imported. There are extensive deposits of mineral paint in this section, awaiting development. Many products might be made from the residuum of petroleum, such as coal tar colors, lubulcating oils, waterproofing, ink, vaseline, benzine, naphtha, and washes for insect pests. Fish might be preserved along the ocean, by drying and canning. A nail factory would find a good market for its product. Wool, which is so heavy an Item in our exports, should be worked up at home.

Last, but not least, there is the question of establishing mineral reduction works—smelters and mills—which has been much agitated, from time to time. Such an enterprise as this will probably been much agitated, from time to time. Such an enterprise as this will probably have to wait for cheaper fuel, and it is expected that the Salt Lake railroad, when built, will bring us both cheap fuel and ore. There are, besides, large quantities of high grade smelting ores in San Bernardino, Orange and San Diego counties, which are at present shipped to San Francisco, Peublo, Omaha or Kansas City, at great expense.

The Terminal Company's Grand Opening on the Island.

ern Pacific Officials-What the Local Notes.

The Chronicle of Wednesday says: The strike of the San Joaquin Valley trainmen may be amicably settled after all. The committee—Messrs. Scoville, Morgan, Rodgers and Herbert-sent up by the trainmen, together with R. S. Bodman of Los Angeles, representing the Brotherhood of Trainmen, met Gen. eral Superintendent J. A. Fillmore yesterday morning and held a long conference. The railroad officials did not grant any concessions, but the committee went away pretty well satisfied.

It was shown by Mr. Fillmore that while the number of miles necessary to constitute a day's work had been increased the trainmen worked really a less number of hours than trainmen or other divisions. This was so on ac count of the smaller amount of work done at stations. The committee will return to the trainmen today and sub-mit the matter to them. Another con-ference may follow, as the railroad officials have asked the trainmen to put their grievances into writing and to submit them in that way.

According to the report of the Railway Age, not a mile of regular railway was built in Kansas during the first six months of 1892. Missouri has a somewhat better showing, thirty-six miles having been built. New York leads all the other States with 162 miles, and Montana comes second with 127 miles. The Santa Fé has adopted a special rate for harvest hands from the souri River to Kansas points, of one and one-sixth fare. In going the purchaser pays full fare for his ticket, but the road will sell him a return ticket for one-sixth fare, providing he can show a certificate from a farmer that he has worked as a harvest hand.

Our daily price list is but a meagre measure toward showing the vast array of materials of every kind that are displayed in our establishment each and every day.

It is useless for us to repeat that nowhere upon the American continent can merchandise be purchased at such low rates as from us.

It is our constant aim to procure the best for the least money. In this we think we succeed for we are ever ready for customers to sample our wares and if not satisfactory they can be returned and the paid money refunded.

Our Exchange Desk, which is in the lower portion of the center isle, is in constant charge of a young lady who takes your check and goods and makes the exchange without any trouble. It is not necessary for you to go to the department where the goods were purchased, provided you have the bill with you, to show from whom the purchase was made.
